WASHINGTON, D.C., June 24.—For West Virginia, southwest wind and light, with slight changes in temperature.

"Der Drummer."

The St. Louis Evening Chronicle in its report of the proceedings of the fifth annual convention of the T. P. A., in recent issue, mentions Mr. C. O. Martin, of Parkersburg, and Messrs. Joseph S. Gibbs and Joseph S. Gallagher, of this city, as the delegates from this State. It also says of the tourists as a body: "They are a magnificent lot of men. They dress in quiet elegance, they smoke fragrant cigars, they sleep each other on the back with a sleep-hammer familiarity, they call the hotel landlady 'Uncle,' and they are as handsome as they are jolly."

Charged with Inse Crimes.

William Hope, the keeper of a second-hand store on Upper Market square, has disappeared, and his wife is having his goods sold at auction. Hope just left in time. Constable Luchin yesterday told a reporter that he had in his pocket a warrant for Hope's arrest issued by Judge Arke several days ago on complaint of Mrs. Nettie Hill, colored, who charges him with criminal assault on her little girl, ten years old. Mrs. Hill claims that Hope admitted his guilt in the presence of witnesses.

A warrant has been issued by Justice W. H. Davis for the arrest of Benjamin Doyle living at No. 81 Main street. It was issued at the instance of his step-daughter, Ida Bell Lemasters, who charges him with a nefarious offense. The warrant was placed in the hands of Policeman Doyle yesterday afternoon, and he spent several hours endeavoring to serve it, but without success. The man evidently got wind of what was in store for him, for he was not to leave his room rapidly about 3:30 o'clock, and had not been seen again up to a late hour last night.

LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

Matters of Minor Moment in and About the City.

Ours marriage license was issued by Recorder Hook yesterday.

Ten boys in the first class factories have only this and another week to work before they go to school and hunting.

Ten Barnsville Republicans say wool is selling freely in Eastern Ohio at 32 and 33 cents for clip of medium quality.

A plain drunk run in by Grabber and James Phillips, who were taken for making a nuisance of himself, were among those whose names adorned the blotter at police headquarters last night.

Two blacksmiths at one of the Benwood mills fought a few rounds of a lively prize fight last Monday afternoon, but were stopped by Constable Newton yesterday. They were fined $5 and costs by Squire Riddle.

The only conveyance of real estate admitted to record yesterday was a deed made June 21, 1887, by S. G. Smith, trustee, to the People's Bank, of a lot on the east of Main street, sixth ward, for a consideration of $14,000.

Canis, in despair of the construction of the "O'Connor Ball" route, proposes to turn over their railroad subscriptions and right-of-way to the Wheeling & Lake Erie, if the thing can be legally done and no complaint of the "Canis Ball" route.

William Evans, of Philadelphia, who was sent to jail by Squire Phillips for ten days on a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Edwards, who says she will take her child and go home to her parents at Sandusky, Ohio.

St. Paul's school held their annual picnic at the Park yesterday. St. Joseph's Sunday school picnic at Seibert's. Last night the South Side Singing Society gave a moonlight hop at the Park. Taken altogether the Elm Grove road had about all the passengers it could handle yesterday.

Mrs. C. S. Howell's funeral.

The remains of Mrs. Mattie Howell, wife of Charles S. Howell, of the Pittsburgh Leader, formerly of this city, arrived from Pittsburgh, where she recently died Tuesday evening, on the Baltimore & Ohio road yesterday morning, accompanied by the bereaved husband, her two little daughters, her aged mother and a few other friends and relatives. The funeral took place at 1 o'clock from St. Matthew's Church, the pastor, Rev. Dr. R. Rush Soppe, officiating. The services were brief and simple, and the interment at Greenwood was private. The remains were laid beside those of Mrs. Howell's mother, John Howell, in the same vault in the cemetery. There were quite a number of other former friends at the church. A large and handsome floral piece from the Leader staff rested on the casket.

A Family Tragedy.

At an early hour last evening Officer Truesch placed a man named William Lowery, a laborer, living on Market street, below Twenty-seventh, in the Sixth ward, behind the bars at the Central station. A charge of disorderly conduct was lodged against him in his face and head, which he pleaded, and he was committed to the jail. The case it appears that Lowery is a much abused man. He was covered with blood that flowed from three or four deep wounds in his face and head, which he stated, had been inflicted by a poker wielded by Mrs. Lowery. It was also reported that before attacking her husband she threw a hatchet through a clock, and in other ways made things lively. The case will be ventilated in police court this morning.

Blasting Chilled Steel.

The long and tedious job of breaking up the forty-five or fifty tons of Bessemer steel which has been in the blast furnace two or three days since was commenced yesterday, the contract being given to M. C. Hite and S. W. Oliver. They were busy all day drilling holes, and last night they commenced the work of blasting, using nitroglycerine and dynamite for that purpose. It will take three or four weeks, probably, to reduce the chill to fragments that will make it possible to use the metal again.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

THE COMMENCEMENT YESTERDAY.

A Class of Thirty-nine, two of them Colored, Graduate with Distinguished Honor, Large Audiences Present at both Exercises—The Honors Awarded.

Never was a school commencement held under more favorable auspices than the graduating exercises of the Wheeling Public Schools yesterday afternoon and last evening. The weather was perfect, the atmosphere being delightfully cool though the sky was bright and sunny. The class was composed of the following pupils:

Washington School—Walter W. Spargo, Madison School—Mary Crawford, Alice English, Estella A. Eckart, Madeline Smith, Annie A. Miller, Mattie Donaldson, Harry O. Stevens.

Clay School—J. Nelson Vance, Jr., Margaret W. Houston, Frank W. Nesbitt, Edith E. Pratt, Katherine Dean, Charles S. Briles, Ralph A. Heyman, Frank H. Heyman, John W. Wright, Jay Morrison, Blanche Carter, L. A. Crawford, Union School—Albert H. Taylor, Annie E. Armstrong, Minnie H. Magee, Hardy Henry, Katie Flood.

Centre School—William M. Doulin, Mabel Borden, John W. Nesbitt, Webster School—Frank A. Jackson, Emma Westwood, Abby Ratcliff, Annie K. Seabright.

Ridgely School—J. Bernard Handian, Laura J. Spargo, William A. Niebur, Maggie S. Otis, Lillie Humes.

Colored School—Charles L. Jackson, Gertrude Lee Allen.

The white pupils held their exercises in the afternoon and the colored pupils in the evening, both in the Grand Opera House. When the doors were thrown open shortly after one o'clock the commodious hall was soon filled.

The audience was one seldom equaled in Wheeling. There were probably less than a score of gentlemen in it. Ladies in light costumes and with hats and feathers laid nearly all the seats and left little standing room upstairs and down. Their waving fans made an animated scene resembling a brilliant parterre with countless butterflies hovering over its flowers.

An occasional member of the sterner sex who had been forced into a seat remote from the aisle and could not get out was allowed to hold his place unchallenged.

UPON THE STAGE.

The stage was nicely set with a park scene and across the footlights was a solid line of growing plants, whose glossy foliage and gay bloom made a pleasing contrast to the creamy white dresses of the young ladies. The monotony of white given relief by the red and blue of the young gentlemen. The chairs had been neatly covered with snowy linen for the occasion, and taken altogether the ensemble on the stage was striking and agreeable.

The Opera House Orchestra had been secured by Superintendent Anderson, which of itself went very far towards assuring the success of the event. The music of this organization is like charity—it covers a multitude of faults. But when, as yesterday, no fault existed, it heightens the enjoyment of an otherwise beautiful programme.

The class marched in to a lively march by the orchestra, and took their seats in the beautiful circle of the stage. Dr. W. H. Cooke, of the Second Presbyterian church, then made a fervent and fitting opening prayer, after which the class was given time to recover its ease and self-possession and familiarize itself with its surroundings. Then the orchestra played a classical selection.
